WILLIAMSTOWN

Ten members and two guests were present at the meeting of the Home Study club with Miss Alice Walker last Thursday afternoon. The topic for study was "Chicago," in charge of Mrs. Charles R. Beeman, whose home was formerly in one of the suburbs of that city. The program was in the form of a personally conducted tour about the city. Mrs. Beeman personating the guide. The parks, hotels, places of education and amusement, shopping district, and other points of interest were spoken of from personal knowledge, making the imaginary trip a most interesting one. A dainty lunch, such as is served on trains was partaken of at the close of the trip. The guests were Mrs. Laura D. Walker and Mrs. Elizabeth Tarbell, the latter having been a charter member of the first woman's club formed in town.

J. F. Bailey sent his resignation as member of the board of trustees of the public library to the selectmen on the 9th inst. Mr. Bailey has served in this capacity very acceptably for several years and since the office of treasurer was vacated by the absence of Walter E. Granger, has acted as assistant treasurer.

John B. Goodrich of South Royalton was in town last Friday and made a brief business call on George T. Colby.

J. M. Hutchinson has been appointed by the selectmen to serve as inspector of wood, lumber and shingles.

As owing to the enforced vacation in the village schools on account of the prevalence of measles, the schools would not close for the summer vacation till well into June, a petition was circulated and signed by nearly all the parents of pupils, asking the school directors to omit all or a greater part of the customary spring vacation, so that the spring term might close about the first of June. So far as is known, no action has yet been taken by the board. It would seem to be a reasonable request, as otherwise the village grades will be in session after the rural schools have closed.

By an omission, the office of town grand jury was not filled at the annual March meeting and the selectmen have lately appointed Joseph W. Daley to fill the vacancy.

Those who have had measles are now either recovered or well along on the road, though Frank Covell, who has been confined to the house some two weeks with bronchitis is now said to have been attacked by the disease.

Mrs. Annie L. Wilber has been appointed trustee of the public library for the remainder of the year in place of J. F. Bailey, resigned. Mrs. Wilber is not a stranger to the work, having served in various capacities in the old Social library, and last year filling the vacancy caused by the removal of Dr. E. B. Watson to Alstead, N. H. The other four trustees are Henry Poole, Dr. Carl F.

ROBINSON, CHARLES L. HAYWARD AND W. H. MORRIS OF GRANITEVILLE.

George Abbott of Northfield was a visitor at John A. Perry's 10th, coming over with Harry Fogg, who called on relatives and friends here. The latter is a member of Co. F of Northfield, and has been employed in that town since his return from the Mexican border with other Vermont troops of the National Guard.

The Nature club held its annual meeting Saturday in library hall and appointed the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Maude Richardson; vice-president, Mrs. E. H. Jones; treasurer, Miss Alice M. Bushnell; secretary, Mrs. Wm. A. Mills. The Y. P. B. class of the Congregational church has appointed a committee as follows to attend to wiring the church auditorium with electricity: William J. Graves, chairman, Earl Jones and Mrs. John Connor, also the trustees of the church, E. S. Joslyn, George M. Jones and E. H. Jones.

Mrs. Emma Howard of Tully, N. Y., is a guest of her son, Dr. W. J. Howard. The quarantine for measles has been removed from the residence of Walter Mann.

WEST BERLIN

C. A. Patterson was in Montpelier last week, calling on his brother, George Patterson, who was quite ill.

Mrs. C. H. Robinson was in Northfield last Saturday.

Miss Eva R. Hadley spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. S. Thresher, in Georgia.

Mrs. Charles Patterson was in Montpelier last Saturday.

Miss A. R. Emerson spent Saturday in Montpelier and Barre.

The dinner given by the ladies' aid society in their hall on March 6 was well attended. The receipts of the day were some $31.

Miss Viola Crockett was in Montpelier Saturday.

Mrs. B. S. Gove has recovered from her illness so as to be out again.

The ladies' aid society will give an entertainment in their hall next Friday evening. Supper will be served from 6 to 8. There will also be a sale and good music.

S. Levin of Merchant street, who formerly figured prominently in athletics at Spaulding high school.

Information has been received by relatives in Barre of the death at Winnipeg, Manitoba, March 2, of Mrs. Anna Bella McLean Paik. She was known by many of the Canadian people of this city, having been a teacher in the schools of Bury, Canada. Several years ago she went to Winnipeg as a teacher at Wesley college. Mrs. Paik's passing marks the third death in the family within five months. She was a sister of the late Thomas R. McLean of Northfield and Mrs. Elizabeth McLean Stuart of Hardwick.

At her home on North Main street Saturday evening, Miss Katie Tosi was pleasantly surprised by a party of 25 young people. The hostess was informed that much of the entertainment had been taken out of her hands and thereupon an enjoyable program of vocal numbers, instrumental music and games was gotten under way. Among those who contributed to the singing were Antonio Colombo, Joseph Bushey and Miss Etta Rossi. Afterward Miss Rossi, speaking in behalf of the company, presented the hostess a purse of money. A chicken-pie supper was served and later in the evening refreshments of ice cream and cake were enjoyed. A number of guests from out of town were present.

Goddard still remains very much in the limelight in major league circles with another of Omaha Hoosier's tenderlings nursed through four years of preparatory school baseball and now passed along into big league company. The latest acquisition in major league ball is Dan Keefe, the three-fingered moundsman, who was graduated last June from the hilltop institution, after pitching four years for Goddard and two seasons for St. Johnsbury. The following is what a Boston paper has to say of him: "Dan Keefe, considered the most promising candidate for the pitching staff of the Tufts nine, left college Friday to join the Philadelphia Americans. Keefe had spoken to only a few of his intimate friends of his intentions and his action caused much excitement and surprise among those interested in baseball. Keefe came to Tufts from Goddard, where he was one of the best prep school pitchers in New England. As the pitching staff at Tufts was weakened by the graduation of Kreppe and Whittaker, it was expected that much of the early season would be assigned to Keefe."

See those striped wash waists at Abbott's. C. W. Perry and Q. H. Perry returned Saturday from a business visit of several days in Boston.

Mrs. F. M. Watkins of Springfield, Mass., is a guest in the home of John F. Cook of East street.

Some nice furniture, carpets and rugs to be sold at No. 20 Highland avenue. See ad. on page 7.—adv.

A. W. Badger of Eastern avenue has returned from Boston, where he attended the auto show and transacted business.

Fred Blake, who was formerly employed as a clerk in Barre, returned to his work in Hartford, Conn., yesterday, after passing a vacation with friends on Washington street.

Perry Oliver, who has been spending a few days at his home on upper East street, returned this morning to Claremont, N. H., where he is employed by the Sullivan Machinery company.

Mrs. Darwin S. Waterman of upper Washington street returned to her home Saturday evening after spending several days visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry L. Bassett of Orleans.

James McCormish, who was locked up Saturday night on an intoxication charge, entered a plea of guilty when arraigned before Magistrate H. W. Scott in city court this morning for a first offense. The respondent obtained his release by paying the minimum fine and costs.

John J. Walsh of Quincy, Mass., arrived in the city this morning and is stopping at Hotel Barre while making a business visit of several days in the Barre granite belt. Mr. Walsh recently returned from Toronto, Ont., where he attended a meeting of retail monument dealers representing every district in Ontario.

Those who are interested in peace just now will have an opportunity to know more about the organized peace movement Friday evening, when persons responsible for the promotion of the league to enforce peace will hold a meeting. Howland hall, the new home of the headquarters company, V. N. G., has been selected as a rallying place for the friends of peace and the speakers will probably include Col. Ira L. Reeves, president of Norwich university.

Among the guests arriving at Hotel Barre through the week end were the following people: Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Blodgett of St. Johnsbury, C. E. Grosarth of Burlington, C. F. Gallagher of New York, B. F. English of Albany, George E. Lothrop of Northfield, W. J. Patten of Roxbury, C. R. Mciver of Northfield, C. L. Carlson of Worcester, Mass., Harry H. Farrington of Duluth, Minn., C. W. Occupants of the big boarding house at 380 North Main street, conducted by John Cleary, detected the pungent aroma of burning clothes early this forenoon and sent in a call to the fire station when it developed that overalls and a coat were ablaze in the second story. At 9 o'clock the fire truck left the station, but before the regulars arrived on the grounds someone had thought to dump the fiery raiment through a window into the snow. The report that the overalls and coat had a tenant while the fire was progressing was discounted by people at the house, who said the garments lay over a chair and took fire from a hot stovepipe. The overalls were mostly in ruins when the firemen arrived, but it is thought that the coat may be salvaged. The clothing is said to have belonged to a lodger.

Barre people will be interested in the following account of the death of Mrs. Nancy Adams Hall, a well known St. Johnsbury woman and a former resident of this city: "Mrs. Nancy Adams Hall, wife of Samuel W. Hall, a well known Civil war veteran, died at Brightlight hospital to-day (March 9). She was 67 years old, a native of Barre, was educated in Springfield, Mass., and taught in the public schools of that city eight years. She married Mr. Hall in 1876 and located in St. Johnsbury. She leaves her husband and two children, Helen, wife of George Wallace, a merchant of Ryegate, and Raymond Hall of Chicago. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon."

The annual masquerade under the auspices of the senior class at Goddard seminary was held Saturday evening, when about 100 couples joined in the grand march and danced to the strains of Forsell's music until nearly 12 o'clock. A color scheme of blue and gold was used. Prizes were awarded for the best costumes, first prize for the girls going to Miss Alice Reed, who was dressed as a butterfly, and first prize for the boys was awarded Messrs. William Adams and Vinton Corwin, who were dressed as the "Gold Dust Twins." The class officers are: President, W. D. McIntosh; vice-president, Miss Evelyn Drew; secretary, Carroll Strong; treasurer, Helen Kingsland. The decorating committee was composed of Miss Jennings and Messrs. Haskett and Smith, while the committee for serving punch consisted of Miss Kingsland, Messrs. Corwin and Chapman.

See Abbott's children's wash dresses. Big shipment of rubbers to fit all styles of heels arrived at Shea's.

The management of the Barre opera house has booked the well known film play, "The Daughter of the Gods," which featured Annette Kellerman in a run of 12 weeks in Boston recently. The photograph will be presented within a short time.

Washington county physicians, members of the county medical association, will assemble at Hotel Barre to-morrow evening for their semi-annual meeting. It is expected that nearly 40 medicine men will attend. A 7 o'clock dinner will be followed by a business meeting and a program. A committee of Barre physicians is in charge of arrangements for the gathering.

To give impetus to recruiting, as conducted by Chief Master-at-Arms C. Mitchell of the United States navy, an exhibit has been arranged in the display window at the furniture store of R. W. Hooker & Co., where shells manufactured in Germany and used effectively in the Chinese uprising of 1910-11 and a bugle sounded at the battle of Manila bay are shown. The national colors and pictures are used in emphasizing the advantages of service aboard Uncle Sam's fighting ships. Chief Master Mitchell sounded the bugle from the flagpole, Olympia, at Manila and was assigned the honor of sounding taps over the grave of Admiral Dewey in January, when the same bugle was used. The chief master states that Barre, Montpelier and Williamstown are among the towns and cities which have lately contributed recruits to the navy. A recruiting office has been opened at the capital, although Chief Master Mitchell is devoting much of his time to towns about.

WERE WALKING ARSENALS.
Four Hartford, Conn., Youths Apprehended at North Hartland.
White River Junction, March 12.—The municipal court here to on a very warlike appearance Saturday when Officer Daley of North Hartland unloaded an assortment of four loaded revolvers, 100 shells, seven or eight dirks, stilettos and other articles taken from the pockets of four lads whom he and Chief Degman of this place took into custody at Hartland station after they had broken into the Stevens bungalow in Hartland the night before. They had made themselves at home there by lighting a fire and using the beds.

One of the lads who calls himself "Nick" was but 14 years old and looked less. However, he was not so small to appropriate an overcoat from the bungalow. The boys were all young and gave the place of residence as Hartford, Conn. They said they wanted to see the west in reality instead of in the movies and were making their way there hobo style. They thought, of course, that the revolvers and other weapons were necessary for the trip. The youngest of the crowd was "adopted" by Officer Daley until word could be received from his parents. The other three were lodged in the county jail at Woodstock to await the further action of the authorities.

RECEPTION FOLLOWED THE ADDRESS AT ST. JOHNSBURY.
St. Johnsbury, March 12.—Ex-President Taft was enthusiastically greeted here Saturday night when he addressed an audience of one thousand people on the purpose of the League to Enforce Peace. Elisha May presided and the St. Johnsbury academy chorus of one hundred voices sang patriotic songs. Secretary Olizend of the state league spoke briefly on the plan to get six thousand Vermont members of the league. Following the address Mr. Taft was given a reception at the Fairbanks Museum.
